Meet Our New Tutor

Meet Rea!

Rea is a current student at University of Illinois and pursuing her degree in Biology with a Pre-Veterinary track and a minor in Mathematics and English. She is passionate about both animals and people and wants to do her part to help wherever she can. She has experience working with students as a tutor and peer tutor working with a variety of ages and subject matters. While her personal favorite is Biology, Rea also enjoys supporting students in mathematics, english, and Spanish! Read More

More from Rea:

"Hi, I'm Rea! I went to Stevenson High School in Lincolnshire, after graduation I joined the army and decided to complete my undergraduate in Biology, which I have two more years left to do. After my undergrad I plan to go to vet school and become a veterinarian. I currently also work as a veterinary assistant at the ER component of an animal hospital. My hobbies are horse riding, playing violin, reading, and training my dog. I look forward to working with your student!"
